Large Attendance at Parents' Meeting The Bulletin.

Addresses on Child Training Given by N. L. Bishop, Judge Brown and Rev. R. C. Miller at Central Baptist Church.

Sunday afternoon at the Central such a serious evil and so common Baptist church at 3.30 o'clock a well that we cannot lay too much stress attended parents' meeting was held, upon this point. I know of nothing so ruinous to both soul and body as the parents that were full of interest, as parents that were full of interest, as they touched upon vital points in the home relations. The organ prejude and the selection, Let Us Gather Up the Sunbeams, opened the programme.

Welcoming words to his honor, Mayor Costello Lippitt, who was to preside, were spoken by the pastor of the church, Rev. P. C. Wright, who spoke the property of the responsibility of parents and the importance to the family, the community and the world that parents should discharge well the place they fill towards their children.

Mayor Lippitt Presided. Mayor Lippitt Presided.

Mayor Lippitt assumed the chairmanship of the meeting with impressive reminders of the fact that the boys and girls of today are to be the rulers of tonorrow, but he wished there were some parents present whom we would like to reach—the parents of the boys who are found loitering around Franklin square on Sunday afternoons, and the parents of the boys who are out playing bail. He closed with an expression of his pleasure at seeing so good an attendance,

After prayer by Rev. C. H. Ricketts of Greeneville Congregational church, Principal N. L. Bishop of the Central school district spoke upon the topic, Moral Training in the Home vs. the Public Schools. Superintendent Bishop said he was disposed to quarrel a little with the wording of his topic, thinking it better to say "convinced in Moral Training in the Home vs. the Sistent there must be a genuine Christian character. "Thou must be true op said he was disposed to quarrel a little with the wording of his topic, thinking it bettar to say "continued in the school," rather than "versus," for that was the case when the home was a Christian one, but there were so many that came from non-Christian or only nominally Christian homes "Round the Homestead, sung by Rev."

is of intoxicants.

If we devoted one-half of the time and energy to the home training of the youth that we do in attempting reform and reclamation of the criminal, we should, I think, get infinitely better Parental Debts to Children.

Parental Debts to Children.

The final speaker was Rev. R. C. Miller of Hartford, district secretary of the International Reform bureau, whose subject was The Parental Debts to Childhood. In opening he spoke in great appreciation of all that the preceding speakers had said. One of the most important debts owed to the child, said the speaker, was the debt of authority, but it seemed to the one often most neglected. Training in a moral, physical and spiritual sense ought to begin at the earliest time. There is next the debt of companionship, to be exercised not only by mothers but by fathers also. Our ideals and thoughts must be impressed upon our boys and girls by companionship with them. How many of us find little time to spend with our boys. Third is the debt of character that parents owe their children. These boys and girls are good imitators and God pity the boy who doesn't think his father is the best man on earth or the girl that thinks the same of her mother. Our lives must be consistent, there must be a genuine Christian character. "Thou must be true thyself is thou the truth would teach."

these.

The home is the God-given place for moral training, nevertheless, and this is where moral training should begin in extreme youth. This is the opportunity of the parents which the tracher corner have. The school is teacher cannot have. The school is called responsible for the child, but it has the child in charge only one-quarter of his waking hours, the parent the rest of the time. Let the parents win the confidence of their children. Is the home exercising the authority which it should correcting the child. which it should, correcting the children when needed? Are parents looking upon the teacher as co-operating with them, or are they going around with them, or are they going around with a chip on their shoulder for the teacher? Let us realize that parents and teacher are co-operating forces for the same end. The teacher is dofor the same end. The teacher is de-ing her best; she may make a mis-take, and that will be corrected if shown, but when parents and teachers work together the best results in moral training can be obtained.

Home Training Revealed in Courts. Courts" was the topic treated by Judge Lucius Brown of the city court. He spoke in part as follows:

Every result has a cause. The law of cause and effect prevails everywhere. If there are a hundred tuveniles a year presented in our city court there is a cause for this condition of things. The home life is perhaps as clearly rebreaker and desecrator of the Sabbath. I do not mean to put into that class in that boy who through mischlef is presented to the court for some trivial offense. We do not class him with juvenile offenders. The court records show that these offenders are those who are frequently truants from school; they are boys who are constantly on the streets until a late hour, coming in contact with alluring vice; coming in contact with allurin- vice; they are the boys that frequent the theaters and remain until 11 or 12 o'clock; they attend the moving pictures which show The Great Train Robbery where thousands of dollars are secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robbery where thousands of collars are secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where thousands of collars are secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where thousands of collars are secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where the secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where the secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where the secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where the secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where the secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where the secured in an hour, and a "Roid Robberg where the secured in an increase where the secured in Bank Robbery," where a few well dressed men crack the safe and carry off a bushel of money, escapir- in an off a bushel of money, escapir- in an automobile; they smoke the cizarette, buying, begging or stealing them: they use intoxicating liquore; they frequently have clubs of their own and meet in secret places, in the darkness of the night; they are those who have contracted the habit of swearing; sometimes they come from a family of five or six living in one room with only one bed and possibly a sofa on which to sleep. Invariably it is true that in these cases home training is sadly defective, entirely neglected and frequently immoral.

Could you expect anything good to come out of such homes? Many is the time that courts feel that parents and not the child should be punished, for they are often the real offenders.

We are told by those who have made this subject a study that the number of juvenile offenders is increasing especially in the large cities. Prevention not cure is what is needed. There are so many pitfalls in the path of your child, of my child and of ever—child. I want to remind even you who are here today of the importance of looking out for this very home training of your child. Home then should be cheerful. pleasant and attractive. You should be the companion of —ur child; you should be to him more than all the rest of the world; you must allow no rest of the world: you must allow no one to take your place in the child's confidence: no one must supplant his affection for you. Enter into his aports: make his joys your joy; make yourself als confident, live so that he has a make his joys your joy; make yourself his confidant; tive so that he has a right to think you are an honest man; den't do anything yourself you wouldn't be willing for him to do. Do not forget that there is perhaps nothing more important for the welfare of the child than good companions. Give your children good books and only clean newspapers. Many of the delly prints with their thrilling and blood curdling recitals of murders, etc., cannot be but harmful to the youthful mind. Constantly impress upon the child both by precept and example that the use of intexioents must be avoided. This is

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES FOR EPWORTH LEAGUE

Methodist Church with Sermon and Exercises-Installation of

The twentieth anniversary of the organization of the Epworth league was observed in the Trinity Methodist church Sunday. At the usual hour of morning service the pastor, Rev. Dr. Kaufman, preached a strong, stimulating sermon on the Epworth League as a Drill Camp. In the evening a varied programme was presented by the members of the league, Dr. Kaufman presiding. Among the numbers was a series of selections on The Crown, all of which were excellently rendered by Miss Mary E. Bidwell, Marguerite series of selections on The Crown, named: Jose of which were excellently rendered Wilfrid Be y Miss Mary E. Bidwell, Marguerite R. C. Dion.

Some special musical selections were given by a young ladies' quartette, Misses Cassie B. Shaw, Anna Mabel Haglund, Viva Mae Himes, Fay M. Newiand, Miss Haglund soloist.

A bright resume of junior and intermediate league work was given by Mrs. M. S. Kaufman, superintendent of that department made by the pastor and the response from each clear and strong. The tasteful decorations consisted of a large maltese cross, the league emblem, suspended in the choir loft. It contained the motto, Look up—Lift up. There were other numerous featoning and flower decorations, all in red and white, the league colors. The decoration committee was Mrs. Edgar Beach Russ, assisted by Miss Jennie M. Kimball and Miss Myrtie Himes.

NORWICH TOWN

Birthday Anniversary.

At the First Congregational church on Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Ewing preached from the text "Ye are the light of the world, Let your light shine." Matt. 5, 14 and 16. Christ spoke these words not to enlightened Romans or educated Greeks, but to humble and unlearned provincials, whose only and sufficient light came from Christ himself.

The history of juvenile criminals forces upon us the conclusion that such offenders come from homes where there has been entire absence of a good training. That some criminals are born not made is undoubtedly true, yet this exception fends to prove the rule that the juvenile criminal comes almost always from the neglected home. If we go farther we also find that the child who is before our courts rarely attends to the confessional, but is constantly a breaker and desecrator of the Sabbath.
